Community Days!

Charlie's Promise

Charlie was a young boy who grew up in Surrey with his family and went to a party one day which sadly ended his life and changed his family's lives forever. Every day Charlie's Dad goes to schools and many other places across the country to educate people on what happened to his son Charlie which explains the severity of knife crime and the devastation it causes. The way that the story was told was very empowering and like many it has opened up our eyes and showed us all the real dangers of carrying a knife.

Students were asked to revisit Charlie's story in order to understand how knife crime affects families and communities and to explore the positive choices that young people can make. Students then created awareness campaigns that could save a life. Teachers commented on how mature, sensible and respectful students were, both in the original assembly and in the campaign-making activity.
